Know your airplanes! Yesterday's aircraft was a Minuteman 3, ICBM. What type of aircraft is this?

Day Cuatro (that's four)

Safety Paranoia!!!

Cadets, GET OUT OF THE ROAD!!!!!!!!!!!!!! If there is a car coming and you are in a gaggle, MOVE!!! That is all.

Yeha! Was that a great day or what!? C-130 and Blackhawk UH-60 rides, man this is what I came for! To make the day even more fun, Major Trippe arrived for the week!! I certainly hope that the cadets enjoyed today because, anyone can ask Lieutenant Coonis, I didn't stop smiling once the entire day. And we only had one barf incident thanks to Lieutenant Doyle! Yup, today was awesome and we still have five more fun filled days to go so I hope that none of you cadets are getting to homesick.

DAILY SHOTS

What a fun group activity!! Dusting the dirt!...Wow...Just...wow.

Look ma!! I'm Flying!

Now that's fun!

As if today wasn't awesome enough, I was also able to get an interview with the Cadet Commander, Captain Gould. I asked her a few questions and this is what she had to say.

BD: So ma'am, where are you here from?

CG: I'm here from Sheridan Wyoming from the Cloud Peak Composite Squadron.

BD: Hey, me too! Ok, how long have you been in the Civil Air Patrol ma'am?

CG: I joined in early 2005, so about three years.

BD: So what's your favorite thing about CAP ma'am?

CG: Hmm, I would have to say leadership. That and influencing cadets to be the leaders of tomorrow.

BD: So then what's your favorite thing about the encampment?

CG: The improvement of the cadets from the first day to the last day.

BD: I should have guessed. Why did you agree to the job of cadet commander?

CG: When I was chosen by Major Carlson, I knew that it was right and I knew I could handle it. Also, I felt that it was the time in my CAP career in which I could positively influence the cadets.

BD: Well thank you Ma'am. I'm sure the cadets will agree.
